MONDAY MORNING, JULY 31, 1871.

The California Canvass.

We are not over sanguine about the result of the pending political campaign in California; yet on carefully surveying the field it must be admitted even by the opposition that there are some indications of a Republican triumph; or, at all events, that the Democrats have no sure thing. The last time a full vote was thrown in the State was in 1868. Gen. Grant then had 514 majority, but there was at the same time a Democratic majority of 575 on the aggregate vote for Congressmen, so that the parties then were pretty evenly balanced. There was an election for Justices of the Supreme Court in 1869, in which the Democratic candidates were elected, but as neither party polled its strength by many thousands the result was not a test. Hence we must figure on the result of the present contest substantially upon the vote of 1868, making allowance for changes since that time.

It is probable that the Democrats have received some additions to their strength from the influx of Southern people. Yet these can hardly exceed two or three thousand voters. On the other hand considerable numbers have come from the Northern States, a majority of whom doubtless are Republicans. On the whole it may be doubted whether the new voters will make any considerable change in the political status of the State. While these have gone into the State others have gone out, and probably the vote of California will be little greater than in 1868—say 109,000 for both parties.

When the Presidential election of 1868 took place, the Republicans of California had not recovered from their demoralizing defeat of the preceding year, which was brought about by the machinations of Gorham. Hence they did not do as well in 1868 as they would have done had not the party been divided the year before. But under these unfavorable circumstances they carried the State for Grant. It is believed that they lost no ground since then. On the other hand, it is certain that there have been some additions to their strength. The colored vote, numbering from 2,000 to 3,000, will now come in for the first time. Considerable changes, it is believed will take place in the German vote. The labor associations generally, and all their organs, are on the Republican side in this campaign. Various abuses perpetrated by the Democratic party in their four years rule in the State have alienated portions of the people. Besides, there are Democratic dissensions in several parts of the State, and notably in San Francisco. Among Republicans there is unusual harmony and energy. These circumstances are all favorable, and give ground to hope for a Republican victory. The Sacramento Union, which is always prudent in its forecastings, confidentially predicts a triumph, and puts the majority as high as 5,000. Taking a view of the whole situation we see reason to hope that the Republicans will carry the State. At the same time we cannot but remember that California is of uncertain politics. We only know that indications now are favorable.

Boring an Explanation.

At last we have it! The Herald tells us about it, and just how it is! Read:

> The evidence is cumulative and conclusive that the recent wholesale slaughter of pigeons of New York, on the 13th instant, was solely the result of the efforts of that direction of leading Radical politicians. They stimulated the Orangemen to have the parade, believing that the Democratic authorities of New York city would protect them, whereby they would alienate from their support the Irish vote.

Is not this naively (or knavishly) said? We don't think it has been equalled but once, and that was when the New York World said:

> The Catholics will be more devoted than ever to the City Government; and the rural Democrats, both of New York and New Jersey, will stand firmly by their Democratic Governors. If Superintendent Kelsey's order had stood, the Radicals would have made a great howl in the rural districts. If it had never been issued, they might have attacked some Irish Catholics in the city. Both guns have been spiked.

It is encouraging to see that our Democratic brethren are getting this fixed up to their satisfaction. Accordingly to the Herald the "Radicals" are responsible for the riot, because they "stimulated" the Orangemen to have the parade, well knowing that the gentle Democratic lambs wouldn't endure the "outrage" of seeing anybody enjoy privileges but themselves! According to the New York World, the whole thing is right anyhow for the action taken by the Mayor saved the "Irish Catholics" to the Democratic party, and the proclamation of the Governor conciliated the "rural Democrats." So the whole affair turned out admirably! Please remember, that we are only quoting Democratic authority.

We don't like to keep talking about this matter forever, but the Herald and other Democratic papers continue to harp on it; and to harp on it in such a way as to show that there is an urgent necessity that they be instructed in the A B C of American Constitutional Liberty and principles of freedom and toleration. When one party or class says to another, "you shall not hold processions, while we will have as many as we like," true American feeling is aroused at once. People see that an outrage is attempted on the very principles of Republican government, and they will not endure it. It would seem as if this Democratic party of ours never can understand public opinion or obtain an insight into true American principles. They don't know the people and have no comprehension of the public feeling. Hence all their blunders. Hence their past defeats. And hence the impossibility of success for them in future.

The Land and Industrial Reformers of California have repudiated Gov. Haight, and started a daily paper in San Francisco called the Plebeian, to oppose his re-election. He is denounced for his subserviance to the subsidy men, and his approval of so great a number of subsidy bills, and his record is quoted to prove that he has been in league with the land monopolists, and an enemy to settlers' rights. Altogether he is having a hard road to travel.

In every ward of San Francisco there is a German Republican Club. Arrangements have been made by delegates from the Clubs to have a grand ratification meeting on the 11th of August, to be addressed by Newton Booth. The Germans of the city are said to be almost unanimous for the Republican ticket, a great change having taken place among them since the last election.

The official census returns, which show that our total Chinese population amounts to only 63,198, ought to be reassuring to those timid folk who have imagined that we were in imminent danger of being absorbed, devoured, overwhelmed by the insatiate Mongolians.

The Democratic Failure.

The New York Herald, in a long editorial, reviews the Democratic situation, and after citing numerous authorities concludes that the "new departure" is a failure. It says that instead of harmonizing, the new movement is "operating to divide, demoralize and distract the party." To show the prevailing tone of the Democratic press on the subject, we quote from one of the most influential organs of the party (the Cincinnati Enquirer) the following resolute protest:

> It would seem to be the extent of the wisdom of some Democratic journals and Democratic politicians to have their party platform come as near as possible to that of the Republican without exactly being the same—almost alike as two peas, except that the one may have in a black spock made by a fly or something else, while the other has none. They do not seem to comprehend that unless the party out of power can present principles and measures superior and sharply antagonistic to those of the party in power, the people will not tear their shirts to put one out and the other in. If there is to be little or no difference in measures and policy of the two parties, why turn the country upside down merely to make a change of persons? The principles and measures of the two parties should be marked in their antagonism or their contests become merely personal, in which case very little enthusiasm can be counted on in a political contest. Disregarding this fact, there are Democrats who seem to put out of sight what is really and distinctively antagonistic to the principles and measures of the Republican party, and yet as near to the platform of the latter as is possible without overlapping it. We tell all such Democrats that they are going to win by no such policy. The Democratic party, to succeed, must present principles and an administrative policy different and superior to those of the party in power. We think the line of demarcation is broad and deep, but that does not seem to be the case in the opinion of certain Democratic journals and politicians, or, if they do think so we do, they want the line to appear as dim as possible. The Democracy never has conquered, and will never succeed by any such timid, flat, and weak policy.

Good Reading for the "Herald."

The leading article of the Eugene Guard of Saturday is a two-column "crusher" against the "new departure." The propositions of "departure," it declares, "are as irreconcilable as vice is to virtue, falsehood to truth, or hell to heaven." "Incorporate the 'new departure' with the next Democratic platform," exclaims the Guard, "and there will be hundreds of thousands of the best Democrats in the country that will stay away from the polls, and we are distanced on the first heat." We commend this to the Herald, and also the following paragraph from the same source:

> Although some of the Democratic papers of Oregon affect to indorse the Ohio platform we do not believe their editors utter their own real sentiments. We know of no Democratic editor in Oregon that we think weak enough to take such a stand, while acting upon his own judgment. Their arguments in explanation of their own position, and in interpreting the "departure," prove this. They say that the Democracy by this platform do not indorse these amendments any more than they did before, but, by it, they pledge themselves not to repeal or interfere with them until they get into power, and not then by violence, but only in a constitutional manner. This explanation has one very great merit, that is, simplicity simplified. It is simple enough, God knows.

Ninian Edwards, who was subsequently Governor of Illinois, was a member of the Kentucky Legislature in 1798, when Jefferson's anarchical resolutions which produced our great civil war, were introduced in that body. Mr. Edwards, with a few other intelligent and patriotic members voted against them, having first pointed out their dangerous character. The Springfield (Illinois) Journal, of the 19th inst., publishes a letter addressed in 1799 to Mr. Edwards by his father, in which he (the son) is congratulated for having spoken and voted against the resolutions, which, in the opinion of the writer, were "hostile to the Constitution and "destructive of all free government. Time proved the correctness of these opinions. The Democratic party accepted the doctrines of the anarchical resolutions the Southern rebels acting in accordance with those doctrines seceded, and our bloody and costly war was the result. They who foresaw this, opposed Jefferson's destructive theories and foretold their result are worthy of honorable remembrance.

Popular Comments on the Riot.

A reporter of the St. Louis Democrat mingled with the people and obtained original views about the New York riot which we quote:

> A few excitable Hibernians, whose accent betrayed their origin and recent emigration, were outspoken in upholding the action of their Catholic countrymen in New York.
> "What right," said one, "have these Orangemen to parade the streets, making a hullabaloo about the battle of the Boyne, and hanging out flags to insult the Pope? Faith, they are not citizens, nohow, but are sworn to uphold the Quane of England in all her proceedings. They are King's men and Quane's men, and no Republicans at all."
>
> "But, my friend," meekly inquired a native American, "suppose these Orangemen are monarchists and Protestants, and everything else that you consider bad, is not this a free country, and haven't they a right to go through the streets peaceably in procession or otherwise, with any colors they may choose? Didn't you Papists turn out by thousands here, the other Sunday, with the Pope's colors and pictures and mottoes, and was there a man, woman or child that expressed an objection or offered them the slightest insult?"
>
> "Be gob, they didn't dare to."
>
> "Didn't the French hold meetings here and express their sympathy for their countrymen in their late struggle with Prussia?"
>
> "Yis, they did; and I was one of 'em meself."
>
> "Didn't the Germans meet and glorify the Emperor William and Bismarck?"
>
> "The haython Hessians! They have no religion to spare, and don't earn whether their sowls are saved or lost?"
>
> "Doesn't this prove that we Americans tolerate freedom of speech in its broadest sense? Some of us did not like the Papal jubilee, and many were opposed to the German political action; but our eagle spread its wings over a diversified brood, and manages to protect them all."
>
> "Bah, you're an Orangeman!"
>
> Pushing through the crowd we came to a group, the center of which was a free-thinking and free-talking Teuton.
>
> "My friend," said he, "I tells you vat I dinks—if those Irishers come to dis country to make a fuss about der religions, I yoost goes for schlocking both on de hope and make 'em behave desselves. Wat de deivel have we Americans got to do mit der oranges and lemons and sich dings. If dey wants some fights, let 'em go back to de places dey come from and git all de fighting dey wants. I chines de native Americans and goes to New York and pitches de whole crowd into hellgate and de Spuyten Teufel."
>
> "Bully for you, Dutchy," said a young fellow with the bottom of his pants crammed into his boot-tops. "I say let us have peace; and if the foreigners, Irish or Dutch, or anybody else, expect to fight the battle of the Boyne or the battle of the Rhine over again in this country, we'll let 'em know it can't be did!"
>
> A Colorado saloon keeper said of a rough crowd: "I couldn't get their whisky strong enough for them; so, after trying every way, I at last made a mixture of poison oak and butternut. That fetched them. It called the 'sheep-herder's delight,' and it was a popular drink. The first Pike I tried it on yelled with delight; the next one took two drinks, and turned a double somerset in the road before the house. A peddler came along and after he took several drinks of my sheepherder's delight he went off and stole his own pack and hid it in the woods."

The Tammany Thieves.

A startling exposure of the Tammany thieves by the New York Times, has been alluded to in the telegraphic dispatches. The exposure was foreshadowed by the following article which appeared in that paper on the 19th July. The Times, it would appear, has cut the thieves to the quick:

> We published on the 8th instant an article compiled from Connolly's (alias Slippery Dick's) own books, showing the frauds which are perpetrated at the expense of the public in relation to the city armories alone. We gave the official lists of the armories, the rents paid for them, and the rents they were actually worth. We sent this article to Connolly, and gave him the opportunity of correcting or denying it; but he could not do either.
>
> To-morrow morning we shall publish a still more important document, also compiled from Connolly's own books. We shall prove, and we challenge Connolly or any other of the city authorities to deny, a single fact or figure in our statement, that the public are robbed of several millions a year under the head of armory accounts alone. We shall show that not less than ninety millions a year pass through the hands of Hilland Connolly, and that they and their fellow-conspirators steal a large part of the money. We have openly charged Dick Connolly with being a thief, and we shall now prove him to be one. We shall do the same with Mayor Hall. We undertake to place before the public proofs which would be sufficient to convict any man in a court of law, and we earnestly hope that the public will closely look into these proofs for themselves, and form their own judgment upon them.
> Our article to-morrow, though of great importance, will be exceeded in interest by a true copy which we shall shortly publish of the money paid on warrants during 1869 and 1870 for the new court house. These figures will convince any man beyond a doubt, that Hall and Connolly, who signed the warrants, are swindlers, and as such we once more arraign them before the bar of public opinion.

A GRAND INTERMARY.—Queen Victoria opened the new St. George's Hospital in person on June 20. This immense establishment is situated on the southern bank of the Thames, opposite the House of Parliament, and the sum paid for the ground was $450,000. The entire site is over eight and a half acres, and about half of it is land reclaimed from the Thames in making the Albert embankment. Mr. Henry Curry is the architect of the new buildings. The foundation stone was laid on the 13th of May, 1868. Mr. John Perry is the contractor, and the cost of his part of the work is $332,748, or at the rate of 9d. per cubic foot of building; and it is stated that 25,000,000 bricks have been used in the building. The buildings are constructed in seven separate blocks, and are connected on the ground floor by corridors, the longest one being over half a mile from end to end. The wards are 28 feet by 150 feet and 15 feet high, and each holds 28 beds, or 600 in all. The beds will be eight feet apart, and set so that the patients can see out of the windows. The blocks are 125 feet apart, except in the center, where the court is 200 feet across. The chapel is over the entrance hall. There is part of the building specially set apart for training Miss Nightingale's nurses; and laboratories, dispensaries, operating rooms, museum, and everything that skill and money can procure for a first-class hospital. The mortuary is at the southern end, and is reached by an underground passage, so as not to be within view of the patients.

Hon. James S. Negley, M. C. Pittsburg, Pa., writes Nov. 10, '70: I have no hesitation in recommending the "Averill Chemical Paint" to those who regard economy and durability. Its workers can smoke atmosphere better than any Paints I have tested. The colors are rich and variable. Altogether I find them the CHEAPEST AND BEST."

"JACKSONVILLE, FLORIDA CUSTOM HOUSE.—It looks as fresh and glossy as when first applied. I do not believe any LEAD AND OIL CAN EQUAL IT.

WM. P. DOCKRAY."

I have carefully compared the cost and merits of the Averill Paints with White Lead and Oil and find 99 cents per gallon in favor of the former.

CITY.

AN INTELLIGENT PUBLICATION.—The Land Owner is a Chicago journal, the official paper of the National Board of Real Estate Agents, and withal, a paper of very pretentious character. It talks oracularly about lands here and lands there; of mines and crops, securities, landed men, etc., is illustrated without regard to expense. On the third reading page of this illustrated, pretentious and oracular journal we find this paragraph:

"The agents of Oregon Territory, as will be seen by our extended report in another column, have organized a Board for the protection of their interests. This Board will probably be represented at the annual meeting of the National Board, at Hartford, Conn., Wednesday, August 9th." On the next page appears the proceedings of the convention of real estate agents of Portland, held last April, at the head of which appears this sub-head: "Organization of Board for Oregon Territory," and in the introductory lines of the record of proceedings as published in our city papers last June, the compiling editor has interpolated the word "Territory." On a subsequent page we find that "Hugh Small, Esq., agent at San Francisco for the Land Owner, sailed recently for Portland, Oregon, to look after the interests of this journal in that rapidly developing Territory." We trust that Mr. "Hugh Small," agent for the Land Owner, will learn, while here looking after the interests of the Land Owner, and inform his editorial principals that Oregon ceased to be a Territory in the second month of 1859, and that it has about ceased to be even a county of California. It is not situated on the Stanislaus river, Long Tom is not its principal seaport harbor, and the Gulf stream is not its principal navigable river. Why don't Chicago send some of its land owners to a common school for a few days?

FROM WALES TO PORTLAND.—The bark Skiddaw arrived Friday evening, too late for us to get anything from her memoranda. She is commanded by Capt. Robert Stevenson. Her cargo consists of 5,617 bars railroad iron, 11,240 fish bars, and 22 cases bolts and nuts. The Skiddaw left Newport, Wales, on the 17th of February, and was 163 days making the passage. She had a fair passage till attempting to pass the Straits of La Haire, she encountered a violent gale, which, however, lasted only three hours. The storm, though, left its marks upon the vessel, as it carried a portion of her bulwarks, and stove her long-boat. The ring bolts in her decks were torn out, and everything loose on deck was washed overboard. The vessel worked heavily, but sprung no dangerous leak. When near the Cape strong winds were encountered, but the rest of the voyage was comparatively pleasant. All on board arrived in good health. The Skiddaw is a fine looking craft, now very deep in the water—with four and six inches. She is owned in Wales, Canada.

FARMS IN CLARKE COUNTY, W. T.—The Register (Vancouver) represents that there is still an unabated demand for farming lands in Clarke county. It says: "Soon there will not be a vacant eighty of unoccupied land in the county. In a month a month, hence, there are four unoccupied eighties, and in township 2 north, 1 east, none. Two partial townships lately surveyed by Reiter, Farnsworth and Stewart will increase the amount of land in market. There is some very fine land unsurveyed in close proximity to Tootle Lake, in Clarke county, on which there are already squatters. Farnsworth and Stewart's surveys north of Vancouver, comprising several additional townships, have been completed. They will on Wednesday next start for their new field of operations, which is near Cathlamet. The city passed over north of Vancouver is mostly timbered, but in sections 22 and 23, township 4 north, range 3 east, there is a prairie containing from 200 to 300 acres. Its elevation, however, is very great.

A FAST ANIMAL SOLD.—On Saturday last, Pat Smith, of this city, sold his trotting mare "Oregon Belle" to J. B. Hinkle, of Petaluma, California, for $1,500. Nellie has, for the last two or three years, carried off the first prizes for trotting at our State Fairs. The ease with which she has taken all competitors has given her a local fame as the "Pet" State, and at home of the race fairs she has been ruled out of the trotting list. Though her time at these trotting tests has not always been remarkable, she has always shown that if it were necessary she could do her miles in greatly less time. She can, with good handling, go in 2:30, or less, and we fancy we will give some of the crack trotters of California a handsome hustle. Mr. Hinkle will take her home with him on the next steamer.

PORTLAND, DALLES AND SALT LAKE RAILROAD.—At an election held in this city, on the 24th inst., the following Directors were chosen: [illegible] Waterman, Lloyd Brooks, Edwin Russell, Charles M. Carter, and W. W. Chapman. At a subsequent meeting of the Directors the following officers of the Board were elected: President, W. W. Chapman; Vice President, Phillip Ruma; Secretary, E. D. Shattuck; and Treasurer, Edwin Russell. We are informed that the company have already engaged in prosecuting their surveys at the most difficult points on the Columbia river between here and the Dalles.

INDIANS SENT AWAY.—Messrs. Magone and Russell sent away yesterday five of the Indians who have been raising the devil lately, at the Dalles and in the city. They were Lewis river or Snake Indians. A number of others will be sent to-day to-morrow. Thus, at last, we are likely, through the intervention of Superintendent Meacham, to be rid of an intolerable nuisance. What? It was the business of the Washington Territory Superintendency to reclaim these Indians.

OREGON CENTRAL RAILROAD.—It will be gratifying to the west side people to know that the work of construction of the Oregon Central Railroad is being pushed with the utmost possible vigor. The line of the work for miles is all alive with grit; bridge-builders, track-layers, teams, etc. The contractors, notwithstanding the large force they have at work, want still more help, a fact of which idle men and grumblers will please make a note.

SHIPPING ITEMS.—The name of the bark telegraphed last Friday evening "Atwater" should have been Amatia.

A bark, supposed to be the Whistler, was seen off the bar last Friday evening.

The bark Rival is in the river, with a cargo from San Francisco, and was under sail up the river on Saturday.

OLD TIME FREIGHT WAGON.—On Saturday we noticed on the street one of those immense freight wagons which are now rarely seen, except on the frontier. It is to be used in transporting government supplies from this city to Fort Klamath. The great double wagon will carry a steamboat's cargo.

RETURN OF THE PILGRIMS.—The late cool weather has had the effect to bring home most of the people who had gone down to find out "what are the wild waves saying." They are now vastly more interested in ascertaining where are their flannel wrappers, cloaks and overcoats.

ATTRACTIONS.—Mr. B. M. Nathan has pretty well filled the city for the Nathan Juvenile Troupe, and we learn that the troupe will probably arrive within a week. Upon their arrival they will open at Oro Fino as soon as practicable.

THE WEATHER.—This staple is still lowering, and crop owners are beginning to get uneasy for the consequences. A few more days of rainy or cloudy weather will do great damage to hay and early cut grain.

PICTURE SALE.—On Saturday Mr. A. B. Richardson closed out a large collection of lithographs, steel engravings, chromo landscapes, etc. The auctioneer was full of bidders and the pictures went off rapidly at good prices.

COAL ON THE COWLITZ.—The Vancouver Register says Judge Lancaster has struck a coal-bed which is five feet deep. It is located on the bank of the Cowlitz river, near the railroad line.

AMERICAN BATHER PUNISHED.—A man named Wargus was arrested on Saturday and sent to jail for five days, for disregard of the ordinance against bathing in the city.

FIRE DEPARTMENT MEETING.—There will be a meeting of the Board of Foremen at the Police Court-room, at eight o'clock this evening.

AGAIN RUNNING.—We observe that the steamer Mary Bell is again in service on the route from Portland down the Columbia river.

Science Advances.

As soon as an article purporting to be of utility has been tested, and its merits endorsed by public opinion, unprincipled parties endeavor to replenish their depleted purses by counterfeiting, and substituting a spurious for the genuine article. Some time since, Mercury, in the disguise of pills, powders, etc., was given for all diseases of the stomach and liver, while quinine was freely administered for the chills. At length Hostetter's Stomach Bitters made its advent, and an entire new system of healing was inaugurated. The beneficial effects of this valuable preparation were at once acknowledged, and mineral poisons suffered to sink into that obscurity to which an enlightened age has consigned them. There have been many spurious bitters palmed upon the community, which, after trial, have been found perfectly worthless, while Hostetter's has proved a blessing to thousands, who owe to it their restoration to health.

For many years we have watched the steady progress of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters in public estimation, and its beneficent effects as a cure for all complaints arising from the stomach of a morbid nature, and we are free to say that it can be relied upon as a certain relief and remedy. Its proprietors have made the above preparation, after years of careful study and sifting, and are now reaping the reward, claimed by this valuable specific, and which they so richly merit. It is the only preparation of the kind that is reliable in all cases, and it therefore demands the attention of the afflicted.

WOMAN'S TRUE FRIEND!

MYERS' PATENT CORRUGATED

FLUTING AND SMOOTHING FLAT-IRON

Patented March, 1871.

THE MOST USEFUL INVENTION OF THE AGE!

THE ONLY PATENT FLUTING AND SMOOTHING Iron ever offered to the public, and pronounced by the Press perfection itself.

Adopted by all Housekeepers, on its own merits, as the Cheapest and most Perfect household article yet devised.

Advantages over all others—ORNAMENTS: SIMPLICITY: DURABILITY: Requires no labor to adjust it for Fluting or Ruffling, as is the case with expensive crank machines: the Iron is heated in this ordinary manner on the fire, plain, smoothing. When desiring to FLUTE or RUFFLE, draw back the Latch and it is ready for its work; this simple movement is all that is required. Its entire simplicity is one of its many merits.

It will not injure the finest fabric. It will not rust or destroy your clothes. It is a great saver of Time and Money. It is the only Iron with a "Rolling Motion." Its Fluting surfaces are of Polished Brass. No home can afford to be without them.

MYERS' COMBINED FLUTING AND SMOOTHING FLAT-IRONS have earned for themselves a popularity which has never been attained by any Fluting Machine. People go into ecstasies over the results accomplished by our Irons, and the longer they are used the more highly do they value them, and no wonder, when we consider that our Combined Fluting and Smoothing Flat-Irons, which are so flexible in use, and which do such plain ironing as well as Fluting and Ruffling, costs only the very small sum of $2 75 each.

These Irons are for sale only by our Canvassing Agents.

The following "oration notes," as we learn from the Guard, were picked up in the street at Eugene City a few days ago. They are supposed to have been dropped out of Lish Applegate's hat, and to have been intended for use on the Fourth of July:

Fellow Citizens: To-day is the anniversary of that day that makes the bosom of every American throb and burn with the unquenchable fires of patriotic ecstacy. When the tutelar genius of American liberty unfurled the star spangled banner from the quarter deck of the Mayflower, she caused the myrmidons of European tyranny to hide their diminished heads under a barrel of leached ashes, and made the lion and unicorn pass in their cheeks. When the grey eagle of the Cascade mountains plumes his magical pinions for his lofty flight from Ochoco to Pelouze, he casts a regretting glance behind at the classic precincts of Long Tom, and then away he soars, and he soars, and the further he soars the surer he gets, fellow citizens. When the golden masted bark of Christopher Columbus first cast her anchor in Scappoose Reef and the victorious standards of Grenada were planted upon the orange clad shores of Santo's island, even then the seed of budding germ of freedom swelled forth in a tumultuous outburst of rapture, that caused the throne of Hapsburg and Bourbon to quake to the very foundation, while Father Hyacinth and Jim Fisk were locked up in the Vatican, and did not care to go out of the house without a six shooter buckled to them. Long years ago I took my stand by the right hand of freedom, fellow citizens, in that antique age when Marlborough invented draw poker, and Joe Teal was fighting under the banner of Coeur de Leon beneath the battlements of Jerusalem, and right there I propose to stick.

And shall we prove false to the history which our ancestors have handed down to us, a history glorified by the triumphs of Washington and Hannibal, of Marion and Joe Meek? Shall we obliterate from the world's annals of glory the glowing names of Ethan Allen and Hon Owens? No, fellow-citizens, a thousand times no. Shall we permit posterity to forget how Grasshopper Jim went forth with a stuffed club to fight for the Conquering Bull Against the veteran legions of the Heathen Chinee? Never! So long as Celilo raises her thousand gilded spires above the yeasty waves of the Des Chutes, and Kalama wails her desolation upwards from the crystal floods of the Columbia, so long shall the great Willamet valley send forth her countless thousands of red apples to feed the starving poor of all nations. When the navies of the whole world shall ride at anchor in the placid bosom of Yaquina Bay, and Lige Rhea ship beef steers to feed the starving armies of Moltke and Bazaine, then shall the glories of our splendid city shine forth in the purple lustre of an unsullied empire and stand immovable as a pig's foot. When the magical iron hands shall link New York to Champoeg, then we shall see our destiny fulfilled and our glorious State shining out in glowing colors like a big sunflower. Here, Vic, bring us a quart of beer, and a thousand glasses to treat the crowd. I was once poor, myself.

A Woman Yoked to a Donkey.

[From the Wallamet Farmer.]

In his lectures to the young people of the University, the Rev. Mr. Eliot told of some country where plows are drawn by a donkey and a woman yoked together. We have never anything just like that in this country, but we have known of things almost as bad. We have known men who compelled their own wives to drag worse burdens than a plow without even a donkey to help them. The burdens of the kitchen are heavier at any time than those of the field. The "rest of the day" is more grievous and exhausting over a cooking-stove in a crowded kitchen than it is under the hot sun in the free open field. The man who follows the plow or bends his back over the fallen swath, is not in a position half so trying to either nerves or muscles as the woman who, in addition to her usual family cares, is compelled to cook for several extra farm hands. We know of men who never think of getting through either seed-time or harvest without hired help. The harvest hands are often paid as high as three dollars per day. Yet some of these men who pay three dollars a day for their own help, are too mean to pay one dollar per day for a cook to bear the extra burdens of the kitchen. We do not say this is wrong and cruel. Those are awful terms. It is downright, intolerable meanness. A woman who is yoked to such a man is yoked to something far worse than a jackass.

"Thou shalt not muzzle the ox and the ass together." The Hebrew lawgiver never dreamed that man would put a woman in the place of the ox. We don't set up as a special advocate of "Woman's Rights," to the extent of some flippant modern reformers; but we can always afford space in our columns to rebuke such plain and outrageous violations of justice and humanity. It is useless for men to rant in the plea of poverty. If they can't afford help for their wives, then they can't afford it for themselves. If they must have four or five extra hands in harvest, and those hands must have three hearty meals every day—then the hard worked woman in the kitchen must have her proportion of the help. The necessity is just as much a law of the kitchen as of the field.

The harvest season is on us now, and we know there are many hard worked women in this beautiful valley who will be ready for their graves twenty years before their time, if the epitaph of many a one of these were plainly and truly written, it would read: "Died of overwork, being yoked to a jackass."

Wrong the Other Way.

The spirit and judgment of the following from the Pittsburg Leader are excellent. It says just what should be said, and we commend it to the perusal of all our readers:

And now we are told there is going to be formed, to extend all through the country, a gigantic Protestant league, whose design shall be to protect the land from the violence and the assumptions of the Catholics. If this should be the result of the terrible New York riot, it would be a pregnant lesson, to the more intelligent Catholics, of the frightful folly even from a mere worldy point of view, of which the few turbulent members of their church have been guilty of, in interfering with the Orange parade. But we earnestly trust such a league will not be formed. That would be a deplorable result of the riot. The true principle that the good citizens of New York stood up for yesterday was the American political principle that the right of peaceful assemblage and procession shall not be abridged—that religious considerations especially shall not be allowed to interfere with civic rights. The true lesson to be learned from this, and all similar collisions, is that it is a baleful thing to bring religio is antipathies into our politics. Let us get the two things entirely separated. Let us impress on every man in America that what we want here is not Catholic or anti-Catholic, or Protestant or anti-Protestant leagues, but simply a league or leagues of citizens who will resist bigotry and intolerance on the part of any and all religions, sects and parties. To form a great Protestant league would be the very opposite of such a policy. That would be to perpetuate and intensify the fanatical feeling that is at the bottom of all this trouble. It would be followed, of course, by a closer league of the Catholics. This would lead to more riots than we have ever known before, and a prevailing bitterness and disgust of each other among the two great bodies of our people.

No; we want no great Protestant league in this country. We want no more religious riots. We, all of us, must belong to the true league—the Union of the United States. Let us live up to our obligations to that—see that no man or body of men is abridged of their rights to assemble and parade under that solemn compact, and sternly put down, every attempt of any sort or creed to make religion a pretext for riot or disturbance.

The Volkszeitung (organ of the Prussian radicals) strongly condemns the aggressive tendencies which are now being manifested in various parts of Germany. "We observe," it says, "with grief and deep indignation how already the first days of the restoration of peace are being poisoned by the easily excited propensity to get up new conflicts as the seeds of future wars. Scarcely has the German fatherland been amalgamated into a loosely-formed unity, without any real organization, when busy hands scatter ruinous plans for bringing about the downfall of Austria by her disruption, thus excluding her German territories from the great task of transplanting German culture on Schwonia soil. We hardly know yet how the reconquered part of Germany is to be organized in order that Alsass and Lothringen may not be a thorn in our sides like a piece of conquered Poland or Venitia, and already over-zealous hands cast their teth in the direction of Heligoland, in order to add England to the enemies we have made during the last ten years—England, who has never disturbed our peace, and has for generations been our master in culture and industry, as well as in the legal establishment of the political rights of the people. Our mission should be labor, not the sword; our happiness the fruits of industry, not military contributions. For the war, happily as it has ended, has given us wounds in a single year which hardly ten years will suffice to cure.

The Common Council of Chicago has resolved to suspend business during the month of August for the purposes of making an excursion to Salt Lake City. The Post would prefer that the Council should stay at home; but if it must go, expresses the hope that it will have sufficient decent regard for the reputation of the city to appropiate for steal enough funds from the city treasury to defray its expenses, and not start away like an association of pauper vagabonds, with the expectation of begging board, refreshments and transportation from Chicago to Salt Lake and return."
